Experienced Multimedia Provider since 1993

Michael Stafford, Ideas in Motion Principal, has been providing Houston and beyond with 3D animation, technical illustration, digital video and other multimedia services for more than a decade. From videos for speakers to sales and training materials, Michael has had some type of presentation shown at OTC nearly every year for more than 15 years. Speaking of a long history, Michael's first firm, Stafford Design Service, actually had SBC create a new category in the Yellow Pages for Multimedia Services. We're not claiming to have invented anything; we've simply gotten pretty good at it through the years. In keeping up with the times, our latest passion is augmented reality.

Industrial Strength Multimedia

While knowledge of Flash might be sufficient to create a website intro, your company deserves industrial strength multimedia expertise from an experienced veteran in the field. To deliver the high quality presentation solutions you deserve, we rely on sophisticated software such as LightWave, Cinema 4D, Maya, SoftImage, 3D StudioMax, and more.

We are Time and Cost Efficient

Ever try to explain the intricacies of a subsea wellhead system to a junior flash designer? How about the running procedures for a subsea tree? When you partner with Ideas in Motion, you won't have to waste time explaining the inner workings of your firm's sophisticated equipment. We've been doing this for so long, it's in our blood. Oh, and the easier stuff ... we can do that, too.

The Value in a Partnership

In addition to saving time and money, there's more value in a relationship with Ideas in Motion. We know you're always thinking of how to get that next account, how to seal a client relationship, how to strengthen your competitive edge. You tell us your business challenge and we'll provide the solution ... on time and on budget.
